Relieved Boris says...

THANK GOD THEY SACKED ME SO I DON'T HAVE TO DEAL WITH THIS S!

By DALE THORNE

BORIS Johnson is said to have laughed at the response to his replacement's first proper week in office.

Liz Truss and Kwasi Kwarteng tanked the markets with their first announcements and have been slammed on all sides.

Former Prime Minister Johnson is said to have 'giggled like a schoolboy' when he watched the news afterwards.

NASA DART successfully hits asteroid

NASA has successfully smashed a spacecraft into an asteroid seven million miles away.

The last pic from the "vending machine-sized" collider (above) showed the surface of the asteroid Dimorphos seconds before impact.

The Double Asteroid Redirection Test is the first-ever trial of a "planetary defence system".

If the orbit of an asteroid can be altered by an object sent into space, humanity may have a chance at protecting itself from the kind of disaster that killed off dinosaurs.

NASA, and the international team of astronomers working with them, chose their target carefully. To prove success, they needed an asteroid they can carefully monitor following the collision. They also needed to make sure any impact wouldn't send a previously harmless rock spiralling towards Earth.

Police-chase rider who hit OAP jailed

AN e-scooter rider who knocked over an OAP while trying to evade police has been jailed.

Myra Wood, 79, was crossing a road in Bexhill, East Sussex, when she was struck.

She was knocked over and suffered extensive injuries, including a fractured eye socket.

Paul Satchell, 58, was charged with causing serious injury by dangerous driving.

He was given a 16-month jail sentence and banned from driving for three years.

PM HAS SCREWED EVERYONE SAY ECONOMISTS

SLAMMED: Kwasi and (right) PM Liz Truss

SHE CAN'T BE TRUSSTED!

PRIME Minister Liz Truss and her Chancellor Kwasi Kwarteng are accused of destroying the UK economy – leaving us all screwed.

A mini budget full of tax cuts and increased borrowing has spooked the markets leading to politicians and economists all around the world slugging them off.

Former US Treasury Secretary Lawrence Summers branded the mini-budget on Twitter "utterly irresponsible" and blasted both the Government and Bank of England for their lack of credibility.

"The magnitude of Britain's trade current account deficit underscores the seriousness of its challenges," he said.

"My guess is that the pound

By COLIN HURST

will find its way below parity with both the dollar and euro." A final warning from Mr Summers is that the pound crisis will affect London's viability as a global financial centre.

German finance minister Christian Lindner has raised doubts over the Government's plans to ramp up spending while the central bank tightens policy to control inflation.

Speaking at an event this week he said: "In the UK, a major experiment is starting as the state simultaneously puts its foot on the gas while the central bank steps on the brakes."

"I would say we wait for the results of this attempt and then draw from the lessons."

Mr Lindner, the hawkish head of the pro-business Free Democrats, has been pushing Germany to return to constitutional debt limits after breaches during the pandemic.

He said further government support packages would undermine measures taken by central banks to fight inflation, adding: "We must not counteract the central bank's policy of rising interest rates by sending fiscal stimulus for demand or for growth."

"Expansionary fiscal policy has contributed to us seeing such inflationary developments."

– AS GEORGE OSBORNE PUTS THE BOOT IN, TOO

FORMER Chancellor George Osborne has weighed in on the row about Kwasi Kwarteng's mini-budget.

The former Tory Chancellor reckons Kwarteng is taking the piss by pretending to be a free-marketeer.

Because after a huge market upset following last week's announcement he is ignoring what happened.

Osborne said: "Odd to see free marketeers urging a free market government to ignore the markets."

Nord Stream gas pipeline leak in Baltic

NORD Stream 2, the controversial gas pipeline from Russia, is leaking in the Baltic Sea, endangering naval traffic, Denmark warns.

It set up a prohibitive zone within five nautical miles (9km) of the pipeline near the Bornholm island.

The Danish energy ministry said it had acted after being told about a pressure drop in the now-defunct undersea pipeline on Monday.

Operating company Nord Stream 2 AG said the drop happened overnight.

"The Nord Stream 2 landfall dispatcher registered a rapid gas pressure drop on Line A of the Nord Stream 2 natural gas pipeline," it said in a statement, adding it was probing the matter.

The company's majority shareholder is Russia's state-owned Gazprom giant.

In its statement, the Danish energy ministry said: "There are no security risks related to the leak outside of the prohibitive zone."

"This is not expected to have consequences for the security of Danish gas supply."

Labour: cut-price food deals are OK

A LABOUR Government would not ban cut-price deals for unhealthy foods during a cost-of-living crisis, the party's shadow health secretary has said.

Wes Streeting (above) said he was "not tin-eared enough" to impose anti-obesity rules when food costs were rising.

He said he would prefer to work with food firms before introducing any regulations.

Labour previously supported now-delayed Government plans to crackdown on junk food deals.

The Tory Government intended to ban promos like buy-one-get-one-free offers on products high in fat, salt and sugar under measures in its obesity strategy from next month, but this will now happen in October 2023.

LOVE-SPLIT CHRISTINE'S HOLIDAY BUMHOLE HELL

IF anyone deserves a break, it's Christine McGuinness.

The beauty looked great as she enjoyed a sunny and carefree holiday in Santorini after splitting from her funnyman hubby Paddy.

The Real Housewives of Cheshire star, 34, showed off her lovely arse in a tiny blue bikini in a series of sizzling Instagram snaps.

Alongside the images, she wrote: "69 hrs in Santorini. Siestas and sunsets are just what I needed."

Bleaching

But the slavering beasts who read the Daily Mail website became excited by the bum snap and suggested they could see her bumhole!

One drooled: "You can pretty much see her brown eye," to which another troll added, "No bleaching there."

Another commented: "Pic 2 is a bit close to exposing the exit hole."

And another took a rather puritanical tack, saying: "Practically showing your buttocks is horrible."

Meanwhile, another said:

HAPPIER TIMES:

"Nice trimmed bush, too."

Earlier this year it was revealed that Paddy, 48, had split from wife Christine after 11 years of marriage, with the pair "living separate lives" for months.

Paddy has been hit by claims he cheated on his wife with a fellow TV star last year, and the Take Me Out host was forced to deny he had been secretly flirting with a second star behind Christine's back.

In a statement confirming the split, the pair wrote: "Our main focus, as always, is to continue loving and supporting our children."

A pal said: "Christine has had a hell of a year and the absolute last thing she needs is people speculating about her puckered balloon knot."

Moffat fears Tories will destroy BBC

FORMER Sherlock and Doctor Who chief Steven Moffat has said the BBC "will never be safe in the hands of the government".

The screenwriter and producer, 60, has praised the Beeb for its role in "speaking truth to power".

Asked about tensions between the BBC and Government, Moffat said: "Do I trust the BBC in the hands of the government? No, I don't. The BBC, quite rightly, interrogates everybody."

He jokingly added: "If you put me in charge of the fates of television critics, I would probably have half of them shot."

"It's the job of the BBC to speak truth to power. You can't allow power to defund the truth, that's just not acceptable."

The new Culture Secretary, Michelle Donelan, says she would look at the future of the licence fee "in the round".

Boris Johnson says being sacked was best thing that has ever happened to him

FORMER Prime Minister Boris Johnson is said to have laughed at the response to his replacement's first proper week in office.

After observing time to mark The Queen's passing, Liz Truss and her Chancellor Kwasi Kwarteng made their first major policy announcements this week.

And the world went to shit immediately.

The pound's value dropped, mortgage firms stopped offering their products to customers and the nation looks like it is apparently going to hell in a handcart.

But Ex PM Boris, who was booted out by his own party, is said to be "laughing his tits off at the chaos".

A insider told us: "Everyone thought that replacing Boris would bring the Tory Party some stability."

"Doesn't look like that is working out!"

"Boris watched last week's mini-budget open-mouthed."

"He may be a cheater, a liar and a partier but he knows his stuff when it comes to economics."

"He knew exactly what would happen."

"To be fair though, most people know that tax cuts funded by borrowing is a recipe for disaster."

"The voters don't like it, the markets don't like it either and it's bad economics."

"But Boris out of it now and said, 'Thank Christ I'm no longer involved because this is a shitshow.'"

Sources close to Truss and Kwarteng insist the pair are confident their measures will still work.

BRIT, 35, ARRESTED FOR SEXUAL ABUSE ON PLANE

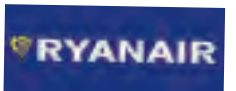

A BRITISH man has been arrested after touching up a female holidaymaker sat next to him on a Ryanair flight from Liverpool to Majorca.

Air stewards radioed police from 35,000ft after the woman, also a Brit, complained the man had touched her breasts and asked her to have sex with him in the plane toilet.

The 35-year-old man was held when the plane touched down at Palma Airport late on Sunday.

The unnamed Brit was fined £2,500 after being hauled to court yesterday for a speedy trial.

A spokesman for the Civil Guard said: "I can confirm we arrested a British man aged 35 late on Sunday night on suspicion of a crime of sexual abuse.

"He was held as he got off the plane on arrival and taken to court after a night in a police cell."

"His female accuser made a statement after officers took him away."

A source said: "The British woman said a stranger she'd never met sat down on the plane beside her and started to bother her with comments about her breasts, and even suggested they go to the toilets together."

Ryanair said: "This is now a matter for local police."

Vader now voiced by algorithm

THE voice of the Dark Side now belongs to other forces, as actor James Earl Jones has given up voicing Star Wars villain Darth Vader after 45 years.

The 91-year-old actor (top right), who has voiced Vader (top left) since the franchise's first film Star Wars: A New Hope in 1977, signed over the rights to his vocal chops earlier this year, allowing Vader's lines to be generated using artificial intelligence.

The Ukrainian start-up Respeecher, which specialises in voice cloning for content creators, used archival recordings and an AI algorithm to generate Jones's voice for Disney+'s Obi-Wan Kenobi series, released in May this year.

This was done in collaboration with Disney-owned Star Wars production firm Lucasfilm, which explained that Jones "guided" the character's lines in the show, but his actual voice was AI generated by Respeecher.

Seal says: it's a flippin' fair cop

A GREY seal that gave authorities the slip turned himself in after waddling up to the local cop shop.

The seal first appeared earlier this month in Shoe Pond in Beverly, near Boston, Massachusetts.

The animal is believed to have travelled to the pond from the sea via a river and drainage pipes.

It quickly became a local attraction and was even named "Shoebert" after his chosen pond.

Firefighters and wildlife experts used boats and giant nets in an effort to capture the wily animal, but gave up after several fruitless hours.

But early next day, Shoebert left the pond, crossed a parking lot and appeared outside the side door of the local police station looking, according to cops, "for some help".

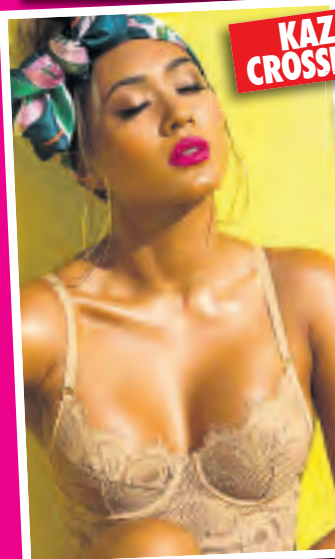

The seal was corralled by a team of wildlife experts and the police department's entire midnight shift.

Giant tuna man sues for £200k

A PRO angler is owed nearly £200k in prize money from a fishing tournament because officials don't believe his nearly 200lb catch was above board.

Edward Pollner, 58, (above) and his captain, Rudolf Bonicelli, failed a lie-detector test by officials in the US state of Rhode Island.

Pollner said the test was unfair and invalid as he and his buddy were drinking like fish in celebration of the giant bigeye tuna fish they caught.

He is now suing contest host Tri-State Tournaments, claiming it was wrong to use the polygraph so soon after they returned to dock. Rules allow seven days for a test to be given – common after fishing tournaments to ensure winners have followed all the rules.

"We both consumed alcohol provided by Tri-State at the ceremony after the tournament, and Mr. Bonicelli told the polygraph examiner that he had not slept the night before," Mr Pollner says in court papers.

Close's sentencing has been scheduled for November 4, when he faces a mandatory sentence of life in prison.

The 38-year-old pleaded not guilty by reason of insanity following the fatal incident in June 2020.

Family murder plots of schoolgirl mates

A SCHOOLGIRL shot her father then turned the gun on herself after making a pact with a friend to murder their families and run away together.

For weeks, the girl, 12, and her pal had planned the brutal murder plot, which included killing their families, and even their pets.

Her friend, however, never went through with the plan, police said.

Officers responded to a home in Weatherford, near Fort Worth in Texas, after reports of a shooting. They found the girl lying in the street beside a handgun, and her dad, 38, was inside with a gunshot wound to the abdomen.

Both were taken to local hospitals and their conditions are unknown.

COPS received reports of five similar burglaries where the front door had been kicked in and electronics, guns and televisions taken.

And the suspect was seen wearing SpongeBob SquarePants shorts and socks.

When the thief went to sell some of the stolen items on Facebook Marketplace, those same clothing items were seen in the background of the pics.

Detectives served a search warrant at the apartment of Edward Price (above) and he was arrested for multiple burglaries.

During a search of his apartment, cops found the SpongeBob clothing items in the tumble dryer.

Multiple televisions, mobile phones, iPads, tablets, guns, ammo, internet routers and other electronics were recovered. Many of the items have already been returned to the victims, police said.

Price was arrested for second-degree burglary after a felony conviction, knowingly concealing stolen property and possession of a firearm in the commission of a crime.

Police wrote on their Facebook page: "The suspect's apartment was not located in a pineapple under the sea."

WHO knows where social media trends come from?

Maybe they're sprinkled into the sleeping minds of "influencers" by fad fairies during the hours of darkness?

Maybe they're devised by Kremlin-based techies in some as-yet-undiscovered plot against western civilisation?

Whatever their source, they provide hours of fun for the ogling public.

Arses

The latest trend is for ladies to pose wearing not very much on their balconies.

Like modern-day Rapunzels, the celebs stand there – but rather than letting down their golden hair, they flop out their surgically-enhanced arses.

Reality stars have joined the trend and Love Islanders are also among the culprits who have jumped on the fad.

It's as good a reason as any to showcase FIVE pages of babes on balconies!

Fruit juice man is boiled alive in giant kettle

A CANNED fruit factory worker was found dead in a GIANT KETTLE.

Dale R. Devilli's body was discovered in the machine – used to boil fruit before it's canned – at the Lassonde Pappas plant in Cumberland County, New Jersey.

Authorities were sent to the plant following reports of a workplace accident and made the grim discovery after they arrived.

The 63-year-old's death was not being treated as suspicious, but a police investigation is ongoing.

"An accident that caused a fatal injury to one of our employees occurred at our facility," said a spokesman for the Canadian company that produces fruit and vegetable juices.

It wasn't immediately clear what type of accident led to the fatality but it's thought Devilli was boiled alive.

"We are devastated by the loss of our friend and colleague and our thoughts and prayers are with his family at this difficult time," the spokesman added.

Driver reports man tugging on front step

A MAN is facing criminal charges after a passing motorist saw him furiously masturbating on his own front porch.

Police filed criminal charges against John Duwayne Dittman III, of Emlenton, Pennsylvania.

It was reported that Dittman, 51, exposed himself to the public and was masturbating on the front porch of the house where it was visible to passing motorists.

During an interview with police, Dittman admitted the incident and said he has a problem, adding that this was not the first time this had happened.

Dittman has since been charged indecent exposure and open lewdness.

He faces a preliminary hearing on October 12 in Venango County Central Court.

Cops stunned by confession in police station

MUM-IN-LAW DID A MURDER, AND I CHOPPED UP THE BODY

CHARGED:
Havens and
Vaughn

Danica flashes her sticky hole!

LOVE Island star Danica Taylor served up a sweet treat for fans as she posed with a doughnut in see-through pink lingerie.

The stunning 21-year-old donned the lacy outfit for the racy snap which showed off her sexy bod.

In the caption, Danica asked: "Donut anyone?"

A fan said: "I'd like to get my tongue in that hole... then eat the doughnut while bumming her up the arse. Yum!"

ADMIT it, we have all had a spot of bother with the mother-in-law.

But spare a thought for John Havens, who had to dismember a BODY after his girlfriend's mum committed a MURDER!

But the guilt was too much for John, 33, who walked into Middletown, Ohio, police headquarters and confessed to dismembering the corpse.

He also claimed that Bonnie Marie Vaughn – his girlfriend's mum – shot and killed her partner, Jeffrey Fellman.

Havens said Vaughn picked him up and asked him to help her get rid of a corpse.

When he arrived, Havens found Fellman's body in the garage and then cut him up using a handsaw, according to court documents.

Tampering

Vaughn now faces a murder charge while Havens was hit with a tampering with evidence and abuse of a corpse charges, police said.

"This is one of those shocking crimes that occurs that is very rare," said Middletown police major Eric Crank.

Mr Crank also said it is uncertain if Fellman, 55, and Vaughn were married, but that they were domestic partners.

Mr Crank confirmed Havens is believed to be in a relationship with Fellman's daughter.

By BRAD CHADWICK
news@sundaysport.co.uk

When officers went to the victim's home, they found a body dismembered in a room on the first floor.

Vaughn fled the scene, but was later taken into custody, police said.

One neighbour said the alleged killer seemed "a little bit off".

"Sometimes she did not always appear to have it all cognitively maybe together. But yeah, I mean, she was very nice. Bonnie was always very nice," neighbour Michelle McRoberts said.

Domestic

Mr Crank said police were called to the home for previous domestic disturbances.

He added: "But I'm sure this is the first time we've been called to this address for a murder and dismemberment."

"I certainly would have remembered that."

ONLY a fool – or a maniac – would argue with the statement that glorious Emma Green is the best thing to come out of Wales since Max Boyce!

Fame has plucked her from the valleys and she now lives in Camberley, Surrey.

But there's no doubt about the 32DD beauty's heritage when she speaks with a divine Celtic lilt.

And hearing her talk about sucking cock is as uplifting as hearing the Ebbw Vale Male Voice Choir sing Men of Harlech.

She revealed: "I like a man with good teeth – and a big dick, of course!"

"I just love giving a guy oral, it always gets me in the mood for amazing sex."

"And without bragging, I have a serious talent for it."

"I love looking up and seeing his reaction as I take his whole package in my mouth... plums and all!"

"I like receiving, too, as it feels amazing. And I also enjoy a nice long 69er, as then we are both satisfied!"

JUSTIN DUNN'S ROOM 101

WHAT'S ANNOYING HIM THIS WEEK?

We are completely fked!

LEAD US INTO DESPAIR: PM Liz Truss and (below) Kwasi

I HAVE a pal called Brian who used to work in Hungary.

It was a fancy job in something or other to do with money, based in the capital, Budapest.

Crunching numbers in a foreign land with a foreign language.

Now, Brian is from an area not very far from me that is generally considered not to be the nicest.

His family home, where he now lives with his dog, is less than a mile from one of the most notorious pubs ever.

Yet this bloke from the hood speaks in a cut glass accent.

He got a first from Oxford – whatever that means – and wouldn't sound out of place in one of those fancy period dramas on telly that I will never, ever watch.

I can't describe what his job was, exactly, because, as a merely average pleb, I never really understood it.

My work involves only words, whereas his was mainly numbers.

And numbers to me are like a visual version of white noise. I know they are there, but I can't quite see or understand them.

In truth, the only time numbers make sense to me is when the cash machine says: "No. Fk off."

Then I know, at least, that I am out of numbers for the immediate time being.

Economics

But Brian is something of a master at all this stuff, and sometimes – four pints in, mind – we'd talk economics.

Or, rather, he would talk about economics and I'd occasionally nod, pretending I had the faintest idea about what he was talking about.

He never really wanted to stretch the conversation into politics, because he saw all that as entirely pointless.

He explained that as nearly all politicians and Whitehall civil servants knew absolutely buggar all about economics, our country is, to use his exact terminology: "Fked."

He reckoned that our collective credit cards and student loans and outrageous mortgages and ruinous bills for the NHS, for foreign aid, for the military, and all the rest of the mad shit we keep throwing money at, had the country anchored far beyond any accepted description of bankruptcy.

And that conversation, which we had in a beer garden on a sunny afternoon, was not held in the last few weeks.

It was in 2017, long before any of us had started to use words like "pandemic", "masks", "furlough", "vaccines", and "eat out to help out".

It was before Vladimir Putin finally lost the plot, too.

And way before anyone had really heard of Liz Truss, and certainly long before the phrase "Kwasi Kwarteng, Chancellor of the Exchequer" was ever even a consideration.

Banged

Since that chat, having been locked up for the best part of two years, with schools closed, universities doing their typical least-as-possible, GPs going missing, tools downed across the nation apart from a few pans getting half-heartedly banged, we have still carried on to splurge BILLIONS of pounds.

And the answer to how to tackle that enormous debt burden has been, as ever, to make it even bigger.

The Conservative Party answer to us plummeting down into the remorselessly black pit of debt despair is to borrow even more.

To let someone else worry about it all tomorrow.

To hope that tomorrow never comes.

I rang Brian on Monday morning, mainly to ask about his dog, but just for the hell of it – and because I needed something to write about – I decided to throw the economic outlook question at him.

"I once told you we were fked," he said, poshly. "But not anymore."

"Now, old boy, we are completely and utterly fked."

Carer uses scissors to behead pal

A MANIAC tried to decapitate a mate in a convenience store using a pair of SCISSORS.

Edmund Clarke, 36 (above), entered the shop with his pal – the son of an elderly man that Clarke works for as a carer.

Video of the incident shows Clarke suddenly grab a pair of scissors he sees inside the store and lunge at the victim as the attack unfolds.

Cops said Clarke hacked away at the man in an attempt to behead him and grabbed other knives inside the shop during the incident in Lee County, Florida.

Clarke's assault lasted several minutes before cops arrived at the scene. The victim was rushed to a local hospital with severe wounds to his head, neck and torso.

According to a witness, Clarke began having hallucinations and ranted about being targeted by an unknown enemy before launching the savage assault.

Clarke was arrested at the scene and charged with attempted murder.

Woman, 33, is held for clit rub at school

A WOMAN was nicked for indecent exposure after she was seen WANKING near a SCHOOL.

Officers were called to Carl Cozier School in Bellingham, Washington State, after a parent who was waiting to pick up her child saw a woman walking down the street with her pants down and masturbating.

Lucy Condran, 33, was issued with a summons for indecent exposure by police, who said the lewd acts occurred off school property.

A Bellingham Public Schools spokesperson said the parent also alerted school leadership, which consulted the district's safety coordinator and double-checked school property.

They said: "To our knowledge, no students saw the woman and the individual remained off campus."

HOW 300-MAN GANGBANG PORN QUEEN BECAME TOP WRESTLING STAR

ADULT STAR: Jasmin took it in the ring – before stepping into the ring!

CHANGE OF CAREER: Porn babe turned to wrestling

SHE was famous for breaking the world GANGBANG record after spreading her legs for THREE HUNDRED men.

But with the world of porn now behind her, Jasmin St. Clair is making another smash – as a top WRESTLING chief.

And Jasmin has opened up on her unique journey to the ring after quitting the adult industry.

The 49-year-old revealed how she had her doubters when she swapped careers, but she didn't care as she wanted to prove to herself she could really do it.

Speaking to adult film producer Holly Randall on her Unfiltered podcast about the gangbang, she said: "It put me on the map in some weird way."

"It's one of those things where people remember you for something but they don't always know what it is."

"It was my idea – that's what most people don't know. I don't regret doing it, I think it's actually really funny."

By SUZIE SHELTON
news@sundaysport.co.uk

Jasmin continued to make adult films until 2000, before she made the move into wrestling – she enjoyed a stint in ECW and is now in wrestling promotion.

Eyebrows were raised when she changed careers, though the beauty said she didn't care how people were doubting her abilities.

She said: "At first, I wasn't sure what to expect. I had a lot to prove to myself more than anyone else."

"I started wrestling with Sue Saxton and Mando Guerrero, who taught me how to wrestle and helped me a lot, along with the Dudley Boys."

"I didn't know where it was going but I knew it would be somewhere positive."

"People thought I was just some porn girl who can't wrestle. It's a matter of gaining people's respect."

Jasmin offered to get back in the ring last year when she called out rapper Machine Gun Kelly where she vowed to "beat the shit out of him".

Dear Lexi,

AS far as I'm concerned, there's nothing quite like a bouncing pair of MASSIVE boobs.

I've no idea what started this fantasy of mine, but I'm pretty sure it's all down to a young lady who used to live across the road from me when I was a lad.

She had a great set of lungs on her! I used to ogle her from my bedroom window all the time, especially when I saw her leaving the house all dolled up for a night out with her enormous boobs struggling to escape from a tiny top or low-cut blouse she was wearing.

Needless to say, I used to give my cock a good thrashing as I thought about playing with those amazing boobs. I'm in my 20s now and I need more than a handful from women I meet on a night out.

Is this weird?

JM, Tyneside

Lexi says...

YOU come across perfectly normal to me.

Dear Lexi,

I'M happily married and enjoy a pretty good sex life, but out of the blue my hubby told me he wanted to shag another woman while I watched.

To his obvious shock and delight, I was turned on by the idea, so we set about arranging it and we found a girl on the internet.

She arrived at our house and looked even better than her photos. And I could see my hubby fancied her.

We had a few drinks and went to the bedroom, where they had oral, vaginal and anal sex while I looked on.

My husband is like a new man since then. What he doesn't know is the same woman came on to me and I've contacted her for a lesbo session.

Do you think he'd like to watch?

PL, Sussex

Lexi says...

ARE you kidding? He'd likely pull hhis cock off.

Horny lingerie lover got me undie her spell

Dear Lexi,

I WAS made redundant from a clerical job and decided to have a complete change of occupation.

Don't laugh, but I got a job as a market researcher for a lingerie company.

Some women don't want to discuss such matters with a fella, but some are really keen and love talking about their likes and dislikes.

The most obliging woman I met was 35.

She had a gorgeous figure and she giggled flirtatiously as I went through the bra and pantie quiz.

When I got to "What colour knickers do you prefer?", she replied, "Pink."

And she proved it by lowering her jeans to reveal a nice thong. Then she told me to get my dick out, which I duly did.

She quickly pulled her thong to one side, straddled me and lowered herself onto my rock-hard cock.

She cried out in ecstasy as she bounced up and down, and I must admit that I shot my load within minutes.

Afterwards, she stood up, pulled up her thong and jeans and showed me to the door, asking me to call again.

What should I do?

MB, east Midlands

Lexi says...

SILLY question. Keep taking her knickers to put on and take off again.

AGONY IS BROUGHT TO YOU IN ASSOCIATION

WELCOME to the World famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice – or experience – than our own Agony Angels! This week LEXI LOWE has been reading through your letters. And here's her advice for you...

Gorgeous boss puts on live sex show at work

Dear Lexi,

I FANCY the arse off my married female manager.

At 42, she's 14 years older than me but has a killer body and legs that go on forever.

She's always very well dressed in expensive gear and her skirts are so tight you can always see the telltale signs of her suspender belt underneath. The other day in work, her immediate boss – a burly bloke in his early 50s – came down to see her about 15 minutes before we all normally finish.

Moaning

She's normally pretty strict when it comes to time-keeping, so I was a bit surprised when she sent me home early.

Anyway, I was just about to jump in my car when I realised I'd forgotten my keys and so I went back to the office. As I got there, I could hear my boss moaning really loudly, so as her door was slightly ajar I went to investigate. I couldn't believe my eyes as I peeked in and saw my boss lying back on her desk with her legs flung up in the air. And I was even more gobsmacked to see her manager flicking his tongue in and out of her pussy as he gave her clit a good rub.

My boss was so turned on that she ripped open the front of her blouse to reveal a magnificent pair of milky white tits which were desperately trying to escape from her black lacy bra.

She then got her nipples out and began to tweak them as her boss stopped licking her out so he could slowly roll her stockings down her silky legs.

By this time I was rock-hard, so I decided to have a sneaky wank as I watched them.

I don't think I can ever remember being party to watching a live sex show like this before – it was totally amazing, like seeing a porn film in the making!

And I nearly shot my load as he pulled her off the desk, turned her round and bent her over so he could take her doggy-style.

She screamed with pleasure as his throbbing cock entered her dripping wet love-hole.

And she continued to shout out as he pounded into her until they appeared to climax together.

But the problem is, I was still on the vinegar strokes as my boss turned round to kiss her lover and she caught me spying on them mid-wank!

I shot off straight away and she hasn't mentioned it since I've been back in the office.

Now I'm wondering if she's worried I might tell someone and I'm even thinking about whether I should try to blackmail her into sleeping with me.

What do you think?

NL, south Yorkshire

Lexi says...

FORGET it. You'll end up sacked or in jail.

Sunday Sport got me into bed with blonde

Dear Lexi,

WHILE my girlfriend was away visiting her folks, I went to the pub on Sunday afternoon and sat quietly with a pint and began reading the paper.

I went to the bar to get another beer and when I came back to my seat a beautiful blonde was at my table, flicking through my Sunday Sport.

We got chatting about the girls in the paper and she confessed she had always wanted to be a glamour model, but she didn't really have the figure for it.

I jokingly told her to prove it – and she suggested we go back to her place.

As soon as we got through the front door she whipped her top off and fished her massive jugs out of her bra.

The beer must have given me confidence, because I just went for it and we started snogging passionately.

Splashing

Then she dragged me off to her bedroom and slipped out of her jeans and panties.

She lay on the bed, so I licked her out and then she sucked me off. She took me to the back of her throat and she gently stroked my balls – it was amazing!

Looking down at her big tits was a massive turn-on and I only lasted a couple of minutes before splashing my hot fat all over her face.

After a bit, we screwed properly – all evening, and in every hole. She was really athletic in bed, bending herself into all sorts of positions.

Now I am worried that me and my girlfriend might bump into this woman.

KR, Lancs

Lexi says...

KEEP away from that pub for a while.

Dear Lexi,

MY fella has been trying for ages to persuade me to have anal sex.

And last month, for his 30th birthday, I finally granted his wish.

He had been trying to get me to do it since we first met and fell into bed.

I wasn't being prudish or anything – in fact I love experimenting with sex positions and even wear all kinds of kinky underwear for him.

But up until recently, I had always said no to anal sex, leaving him grumpy and disappointed.

I guess I just thought it was going to hurt too much, so I always shied away from letting him stick his willy up there.

I did let him rim me a couple of times and he's eased a fingertip into my bum once.

But when we did it for real, I was in for a real shock.

I loved it – especially when he played with my clit at the same time.

Now I can't get enough bum lovin' and last week I let my man shag me up the arse with a large cucumber while he shagged me up the front bum.

As you can imagine, he loves the new me!

But do you think I'm becoming addicted to anal?

KD, Essex

Lexi says...

DON'T worry. This bum deal is great for both of you.

DO YOU HAVE A SEX PROBLEM?

#HOT'N'HORNY

KINKY Aria Giovanni was born across the Pond, in Los Angeles but – as you might have guessed from her name – she has Italian roots.

She loves dressing up in sexy PVC outfits and enjoys rough sex, admitting she even likes getting spanked.

The 34FF cracker said: “I really love being submissive and for a guy to boss me about and take control. It’s such a massive turn-on.

“Power is such a strong aphrodisiac. I love kneeling on the floor, and looking straight into the eyes of a strong, sexy man.

“And I love being spanked on the bottom before sex and having my hair pulled gently and being bitten lightly when we do it.

“It’s so animalistic and it’s an adrenaline rush. I love to experience all sensations!”

IT'S finally time to say goodbye to the creepy Crawleys of Downton Abbey and hello to the horny hotties of buxom Bottomley Manor!

For all you red-blooded fellas who love your porn but are bored to tears by dull Downton Abbey this is your lucky day.

Released last week, the UK's most highly anticipated adult movie is available exclusively through the Sport's adult partner Private Shops and, for a limited time they're offering readers another £5 OFF the already low, low price.

Down On Abby is a big budget, full length adult masterpiece starring porn legend Ben Dover and a cast of the hottest adult stars around. It will transport you to Bottomley Manor, home to the Lord Grabhem (played by Ben Dover), his wife (and 2014 AVN nominee) Jasmine Jae, and their two young promiscuous step-daughters, Abby and Fanny.

The Grabhems have invited the Stiffies to dinner and their staff, led by butler Smallc and footman Master Bates, hurriedly prepare to receive their honoured guests.

But during preparations some members of staff have their own ideas of how to make the night go with a bang! As dinner approaches it seems everyone's got more than fancy nosh on their minds. Mind you, there is plenty of noshing as well as lots of other filth that will even cause a crease in Carson's keks.

We see plenty of R18 DVDs at the Sport but this one is really something special and one you MUST not miss!

This future classic stars Ava Dalush as Missy, Cathy Grabhem, Jess West as Lady Stiffie, Lexi Lowe as Abby Grabhem, Ben Dover as Lord Will Grabhem, Big Bad Dave as Smithers and Clarke Kent as Master Bates.

EBONY

A JOBLESS former tax officer in Manchester clearly has things to be miserable about.

So no wonder Alan Phillips, 56, needed a good cheering up – and what better way than with a pic of his favourite pin-up, north London stunna Ebony?

Alan wrote: "You can't beat a babe with pert boobs and gorgeous eyes, so how about a picture of a lass who gets me going every time, Enony?"

"She has the most perfect pair of 32Ds and it would make my week to see her in all her voluptuous glory."

Here you are, Alan. Hope the Hampstead lovely cheers up your day!

STELLA COX

STUDENT Tom Richards is desperate to see more of Stella Cox in the buff.

The 20-year-old, from Romford, Essex, reckons the Reading beauty will spruce up his new university bedroom, ideally with her 32D norks out.

Tom wrote in and asked for a picture, saying: "Stella was my first love and I've been a bit obsessed with her ever since."

"I'd love a snap of her fine knockers, I could do with it to decorate my uni halls."

SPORT STARTS HERE WITH RACING

STRADIVARIUS

Strad bows out as one of the greats

JOHN Gosden hailed Stradivarius as “the most extraordinary and unique racehorse” after the star stayer was retired.

Gosden, who now trains in partnership with son Thady, has handled the Bjorn Nielsen-owned horse throughout his seven-year career, with Stradivarius winning 20 of his 35 starts for the Clarehaven team.

Stradivarius has been sidelined since suffering a bruised foot last month, with the setback forcing him to miss an intended outing in the Lonsdale Cup at York.

Unique

That injury has taken longer than anticipated to resolve, resulting in Nielsen's decision to call time on Stradivarius' racing career.

A seven-time Group One winner, encompassing three Gold Cups at Royal Ascot and a record four renewals of the Goodwood Cup, Stradivarius will now take up stallion duties at the National Stud.

Gosden said: “Stradivarius has been an extraordinary and unique racehorse throughout his career. He exhibited joy in his training and has given enormous pleasure to everyone, both on and off the track.

By MIKE FRANCIS

“His constitution has been a marvel to behold and his exciting style of travelling easily in a race, and then quickening to pounce, reflected his character.

“He goes to stud with an amazing record and enormous affection. To train he has been a complete joy to all of us here. He will remain close to home and is already looking forward to his new career.”

Nielsen believes the time is right to retire his star performer, who ran this year's Gold Cup hero Kyprios to a neck on what was his final start in the Goodwood Cup in July.

He told Nick Luck's Daily Podcast: “He took slightly longer to get over that foot bruising that he had when he was withdrawn on the morning of the Lonsdale.

“It would be hard to get him back now for Champions Day and John just thought it would be unfair really to put him through it again as a nine-year-old next year.

“He's been the soundest horse – he's never been medicated, he'd never missed an engagement in his career (through injury) and now to start training him with something that's kind of there that wasn't there before, it's time to draw stumps.”

Stradivarius secured the last win of his career at York in May, when taking a third Yorkshire Cup, adding to three Lonsdale Cups on the Knavesmire and two Doncaster Cups.

Frankie Dettori, who rode Stradivarius in all but nine of his 35 outings and was in the saddle for the vast majority of his successes, said in a message posted to Twitter: “I've just got the news that the mighty Strad has retired, I'm on my way to Germany to ride Torquator Tasso for the Arc prep.

Honour

“What can I say? He's been a part of my life for the past six years. A good friend, a wonderful horse, so many great times together.

“I've never ridden a horse with so many Group wins under my name, I think we did 14 together.

“Big thank you to Bjorn Nielsen and also a big well done to the Clarehaven team.

“It was an honour for me to ride him and I will miss him a lot, he's been a fabulous horse to have, one of a lifetime. I wish him a happy retirement and hopefully he'll become a great stallion in the future.”

FOCUS ON THE CRISIS CLUB IN RUGBY UNION

Warriors facing up to biggest ever fight

WORCESTER FUTURE UP IN THE AIR AFTER UNION SUSPENSION

FINAL WIN: Billy Searle kicks for goals in the win against Newcastle

WORCESTER Warriors have been suspended from all rugby competitions with immediate effect and placed into administration.

The Gallagher Premiership club's darkest day is also accompanied by the prospect of automatic relegation due to administration.

Under Rugby Football Union rules, a club that enters administration can expect to be demoted.

But Worcester could avoid playing Championship rugby next season in the event of them providing sufficient evidence of no-fault insolvency through an appeals process.

Unpaid

The Warriors failed to meet an RFU deadline requesting proof of insurance cover and funding for the club's monthly payroll.

Worcester are burdened by debts totalling more than £25million, including at least £6m in unpaid tax, amid growing anger felt towards owners Colin

By JOHN ANTHONY

Goldring and Jason Whittingham, who have been accused of asset-stripping the club.

Premiership Rugby confirmed that Worcester's league game at Gloucester on Saturday will not take place.

Worcester are fighting for their future amid major financial uncertainty right across the Gallagher Premiership.

Here, we look at the Warriors' plight, which has worsened after a Rugby Union suspension.

WHY ARE WORCESTER IN TROUBLE?

The Warriors are saddled with more than £25million of debt, with an HMRC winding-up order due in October.

Players and staff at the Sixways club have not received their full wages, with the lack of funds leading to major operational shortcomings. Owners Jason Whittingham and Colin Goldring insisted that a deal was close to being completed with new buyers, but no evidence of that deal has yet been produced.

WHAT IS THE LATEST DEVELOPMENT?

Worcester have been suspended from all competitions with immediate effect after they failed to meet a Rugby Football Union deadline requesting proof of insurance cover and funding for the club's monthly payroll. The RFU also wanted evidence of a "credible plan to take the club forward" by 5pm on Monday. But those requests were not met, with Worcester men's and women's teams now both suspended, while the Department for Digital, Culture, Media and Sport confirmed the club have been placed into administration.

WHAT DOES THAT MEAN FOR THE CLUB?

Worcester's Sixways Stadium is now locked – staff were given until Monday afternoon to collect their belongings – and the immediate future is bleak.

Saturday's game at Gloucester is off, and because there is no public liability insurance in place, Worcester's players cannot train at the ground.

The players will be given some time off by rugby director Steve Diamond at least for a week, while administration means a likelihood of automatic relegation.

PROTEST: Warriors fans at the ground

WHAT HAPPENS NEXT?

The DCMS will now apply to the court to appoint administrators and begin work to explore all possible options to protect creditors and preserve rugby in Worcester. In the meantime, players, coaches, staff and supporters can only wait and hope.

WHY ARE SO MANY PREMIERSHIP CLUBS STRUGGLING?

The pandemic's impact cannot be ignored, but Worcester cannot hide behind Covid as a catch-all excuse. Rising wages for top players and coaches, despite salary-cap curbs, a constant contest to lure in punters and continued battles to boost match excitement are all major factors.

SO WHERE DOES ENGLISH CLUB

RUGBY GO FROM HERE?

Sustainability will be a major watch-word for the coming weeks and months. The authorities will do everything to avoid Worcester going to the wall. But the wider argument over the Premiership's best long-term plan will rage on.

EVANS BRINGS UP HIS CENTURY

JONNY Evans revealed he has learned to appreciate every opportunity to play for Northern Ireland even more later in his career as he looks forward to earning his 100th cap on Tuesday.

Evans will wear the captain's armband against Greece in Athens on a landmark night as becomes only the fourth Northern Irishman to reach a century, following Pat Jennings, Aaron Hughes and Steven Davis.

By PAUL THOMAS

It is a moment the 34-year-old hoped would have come sooner – injuries kept him out of a couple of squads last year – but experience has taught Evans to savour these moments.

"Sometimes when you are young you take things for granted," he said. "I probably went through a spell in my career where I came to the realisation of how big the games were and how much they meant to me."

"Obviously going to the Euros, qualifying for that and the culture that was created around that was probably the best experience I've had in football. It probably made me realise just how much playing for your country means."

It is 16 years since Evans, yet to make a senior appearance for Manchester United at the time, made his international debut playing out of position in the famous 3-2 win over Spain.

There were some difficult times to come as Northern Ireland went through some painful rebuilding years, but the rewards followed at Euro 2016.

"I probably look at my Northern Ireland career with some great highs and some lows," the Leicester defender added. "I've made mistakes myself, had suspensions and I've been sent off."

"You can't always look back with regret, but you do sort of think you'd do some things differently."

"But I am very proud of where I am today. It gives me even greater respect for Pat Jennings, Aaron Hughes and Steven Davis and for what they've achieved."

"I get accolades for reaching 100, but every cap Steven plays over 100 is even more impressive. He's on 139 and will hit 140 – he's a big inspiration for everyone."

Promise

Evans laughed when he was told reaching the milestone might put him in the same position as Davis – facing questions about how much longer he'll play on – but says his motivation is high as he believes a rebuild has left Northern Ireland capable of reaching Euro 2024.

"I think so," he said. "It's brilliant that the young players have had the experience and game time during the summer and what they will have learned from that – some of them have shown real promise."

"I takes me back to coming into the squad myself and how the older players received me. I want to receive the younger players in the same way. We all do."

"I thought Conor Bradley was superb the other night and Shea Charles came in during the summer and that's what we want to see – young lads making an impression and hopefully bring the country forward."

FURY: JOSHUA'S A SH*THOUSE

TYSON Fury says his heavyweight showdown with Anthony Joshua is off after his self-imposed deadline expired.

Fury set Joshua's camp an ultimatum on Friday night, insisting if the deal could not be done in time then he would walk away from the blockbuster all-British bout and millions of pounds.

The deal was thought to be 60-40 in favour of Fury with incredible figures of half a BILLION pounds being mentioned as the total purse for the bout.

Speaking on his Instagram, the WBC champion Fury made his feelings clear: "Well guys, it's official. D-day has come and gone.

BOXING

"It's gone past five o'clock, Monday. No contract has been signed."

"It's officially over for Joshua. He is now out in the cold with the rest of the wolfpack."

"Forget about it. Idiot. Coward. Shithouse. Body builder. Always knew it. Always knew you didn't have the minerals to fight the Gypsy king."

"Regardless of what the fk you say now, I don't really care."

"Good luck with your career, and your life. End of. Peace out."

Promoter Eddie Hearn had already said there was "no chance" of contracts for being signed by Monday, while Joshua insisted on Sunday that the negotiations were down to his lawyers.

Speaking on an Instagram Live, Joshua said: "It ain't in my hands – it's with a legal team."

"That's why you hire lawyers."

"You know the history of boxing – make sure you get your legal terms right."

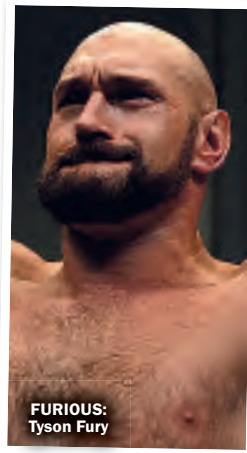

"That's why you get good management and good lawyers. So of course I'm going to sign the contract – it's just with some lawyers at the minute."

Television executives from BT Sport and streaming service DAZN were scheduled to meet earlier this week.

That was after Joshua's team had already verbally accepted Fury's offer of a 60-40 purse split to get the fight on.

Joshua suffered a second consecutive defeat to Oleksandr Usyk in Saudi Arabia last month, and Fury's hopes of a match against the Ukrainian were dashed after he indicated he does not intend to return to the ring until 2023.

GAME TIME: Bale

Wales want Gaz hot for World Cup

WALES are planning talks with Los Angeles FC to make sure Gareth Bale is in peak condition for the World Cup.

Skipper Bale completed 90 minutes for the first time in over 12 months on Sunday as Wales suffered relegation from the top tier of the Nations League by losing 1-0 to Poland in Cardiff.

The former Real Madrid star almost equalised in stoppage time when his header struck the crossbar.

But Bale was unable to affect large parts of the game as he continues to work his way towards full fitness at new club LAFC.

Wales manager Robert Page said: "He's gone from not playing that many minutes to 35 minutes against Belgium to 90 minutes."

"Would I have wanted him to play 90 minutes? Probably not. But it's Gareth Bale and, because of the importance of the game, there's no better person to be standing over the ball at a free-kick late on."

Bale has made just two starts in 11 appearances since moving to California in July.

Before the Poland game, the 33-year-old had not played 90 minutes since a World Cup qualifier against Estonia on September 8, 2021.

LAFC have two MLS regular season games left before the play-offs.

The MLS Cup final will take place on November 5, 16 days before Wales' World Cup opener against the United States in Qatar.

Page said: "What he does from now until the first game against USA we will be in contact with the club and help manage those minutes."

"They want Gareth available and we want him in the best position that we can for the first game against the USA."

"We will be in contact with them and make sure he is in the right place."

"They are a good outfit, LA. So they will know how to get him from where he is now to full fitness, which is 90 minutes week in week out."

Wales will head to Qatar on the back of a poor Nations League that brought them only one point from six games.

But there were mitigating circumstances with the delayed World Cup play-off final against Ukraine scheduled in June between the two opening group games, and a squad badly depleted by injuries and suspension.

ENGLAND COMEBACK AGAINST

KRAUT OF THE FIRE

Fighting spirit of Three Lions gives boss Southgate hope ahead of Qatar finals

ENGLAND manager Gareth Southgate says he's happy to see the spirit back in his Three Lions side.

His team were flat in the first half of their final Europa League match against Germany at Wembley.

But, after going 2-0 down, they mounted a spirited fightback that saw them lead 3-2 before a late howler from keeper Nick Pope handed Germany a draw.

England were condemned to relegation from the Nations League's top tier with Friday's meek 1-0 loss in Italy and things looked set to get worse as Ilkay Gundogan's penalty and a wondrous Kai Havertz strike silenced Wembley.

But the team dug deep and roared ahead as Luke Shaw and Mason Mount efforts were complemented by a Harry Kane spot-kick, only for a late Nick Pope error to be gobbled up by Havertz at the end of a frenetic encounter.

"We should really have been ahead with the quality of chances we had at half-time," Southgate said.

"Second half we started OK. Really all of the goals we conceded are avoidable."

"So, we're 2-0 down looking into a difficult moment but I've got to say the players have been fantastic the last few days."

Pressure

"They've taken some individual responsibility."

"They've collectively talked as a group on their own, with us, and the whole experience has been one we needed, I think, to grow the next part as a team because you're going to have pressure in a World Cup."

"You can try and avoid pressure but it's coming. Maybe it's the third group game, maybe it's a quarter-final – whatever it might be, it's coming."

"So, better that we feel it and we learn how to deal with it. We talked about how we needed to react if Germany score tonight and the players reacted in the right way."

"We showed some character but also a lot of quality in the chances we created throughout the whole game and particularly for the goals we scored."

"I think the crowd also came with us. They stayed with us, they stayed with the team. Even at 0-2 they didn't get on their back."

"They were quiet, understandably, but they didn't get on their back and that was so important for us."

"And, of course, we score and the roof nearly lifts off – we all suddenly remember what it feels like to watch a goal go in!"

"Then there's great momentum in the game and I thought Bukayo Saka and Mason had really good contributions."

"I thought Jude Bellingham was outstanding through the whole game. I think Luke Shaw, considering how little football he's had, had a really positive night."

"So, a lot to take from it and then of course we get an absolute punch on the nose at the end, which is pretty much how it's going at the moment, frankly!"

Responsibility

England may be without a win in six matches – their longest winless run since 1993 – but Southgate appeared to have a spring back in his step in the post-match press conference.

The show of resilience in getting a result was key to that, as was the way players have taken responsibility in the wake of the Italy defeat.

"One of the things was they asked

GERMANS LIFTS THE MOOD

WHAT A RELIEF:
England celebrate scoring against the Germans

could they have a meeting on their own to talk things through," the England boss said. "That was, for me, such a positive sign.

"By the way, there's moments at some clubs where that's not a good sign! But they kind of talked through what they wanted to do with me.

"The best football teams, of course, need outstanding leadership from coaching teams and everything else, but the best teams have a real core of players that drive things."

There will be plenty of debate and discussion in the wake of this month's matches up until the World Cup, which England kick off against Iran on November 21.

Harry Maguire is sure to be a key theme given he is out of favour at Manchester United and gave away the penalty scored by Gundogan, before losing the ball at the start of the move that ended in Havertz scoring.

"I know everybody will focus on Harry but there were some very important moments that Harry delivered during the two matches," Southgate said.

"Luke was another example of somebody that is an outstanding footballer, so what do we do? Not pick Luke Shaw because he's not playing enough football, or do we pick a player that can do what you saw tonight?"

"That's always going to raise debate but I think in these moments we've got to back our best and most experienced players, unless we're in a situation where it's almost untenable and impossible to pick them."

Luke Shaw has backed up his Man United team-mate. He said: "Of course Harry is an amazing player, an amazing character. He has taken a lot of stick, probably more than I have ever seen before in football but he never hides away, he is always there."

Harry backs England to shine at World Cup

HARRY KANE believes England can silence the doubters at the World Cup.

The Three Lions go into the tournament on the back of their worst run since Turnip Taylor was boss in the Nineties.

But the skipper thinks

By JOHN ANTHONY

England's fightback against the Germans puts them in a good place heading to Qatar at the end of next month.

Kane – who hit the target in the 3-3 Wembley draw – has a spring in his step after coming back from 2-0 down to lead 3-2 until a howler from Newcastle keeper Nick Pope.

The stopper is likely to be benched for Everton's Jordan Pickford for the first World Cup game.

He said: "The team's performance was a lot better."

"I thought we played very well in the second half. I think it puts us in a good place going into the World Cup.

"We've all been under pressure with recent results. We scored three goals and it puts us in a positive mindset."

"It was a shame we couldn't get the win but we're happy with how we played once we really started going for it."
